

Keeping all RBX Group Stakeholders Informed

Looking back at 2021 | Season's Greetings

As we once again approach the festive season River Bioscience is in its busiest time of the season and XSIT is a 24 hour, 365 days a year commitment, so it is not easy for our staff to get a sizable break, even in normal times.

2021 has been a tough year and anything but normal. After the unprecedented events of 2020 many looked forward to putting that all behind us as we saw in 2021. Unfortunately, the ongoing effect of the Corona Virus has seen the disruption to our lives and the world, in general, continue way past what was expected. The recent events around the new variant and the continued disruption to international logistics also signals that we can expect this impact to continue for the foreseeable future.

The Citrus industry and many other industries have faced the most challenging year in a long time. Despite this our industry is still strong and an important part of the economy in South Africa. We can remain proud of delivering high-quality products to our consumers around the world. For this, we need to be grateful and not wait to see what others will do for us but look at what we can do to support our industry, our community, and our economy as a whole.

Meaningful ways in which we can support all around us is to help keep our industry moving forward and do everything we can to reduce the spread of Covid-19. This means working hard when needed, taking a break when possible, following Covid-19 protocols in all situations and getting vaccinated. Everyone needs to take personal responsibility by making a contribution.

I wish all our staff, customers, suppliers, distributors, and collaborators a safe and enjoyable festive season and look forward to working with you all in the future to support the competitiveness and sustainability of this fantastic industry we have the privilege of working in.

Cheers
Rob
